

TOWARDS ALACS ECHUCA 2010 Practice Session 1: Cross wind spot

Top Five Spots

1. DAVID PRINCE
2. DON PRAIRIE
3. GRAEME MARTIN
4. MAL STEANE
5. JOHN BREADEN

The first Petrusma Property “Towards Echuca 2010” practice session got underway last Wednesday with 18 pilots taking part in a Cross wind spot landing exercise. Pilot David Prince gained an impressive perfect score to kick off the practice sessions.

The former and present Presidents were next with a stalwart of ALACS, Mal Steane and John Breaden taking up the top five spots for this practice session.

David Chalk should get the suitcase ready for Echuca, only two points between you and John with just five points to Daryl Scurr . There’s a tie already playing out between Patcliffe Hickling and John Bright with five points to Peter d’Plesse. The piloting skills are close!

Echuca not for you? Don’t worry, these practice sessions are still a goer. It does not matter your experience level because all pilots gain from this type of practice with an instructor. You pilot two circuits of a particular discipline, under supervision of an instructor for just $60.00. This week the Petrusma Property bottle of fine Tasmanian wine went to David Prince. Practice sessions every Wednesday night depending on weather.

Next practice session WEDNESDAY
